Description

Extreme fishing tool or fisherman to accommodate the whole family

This boat is designed to have up to four beds and therefore also for prolonged navigations that are not the classic swim along the coast. Despite this, the owner will still have a hull with the makings of a fisherman.

However you want to interpret it, the Tuccoli T295 is a boat designed for you who want to enjoy your passion without compromise.

Even the cockpit, the real theater of the fishing action, can be configured to the owner's liking, depending on which use is preferred.

A hardtop protects the galley/dinette area and the console, which looks towards the bow where a large sundeck defines the bow as the relaxation area for the fisherman's family. The classic Tuccoli hull brings this boat up to 42 knots with 600 hp thrust, in single or twin-engine version, exclusively outboard. For cruising speed, however, this hull is around 25 knots.
