

SALE PRE OWNED

sanlorenzo SL96a

Description

SL96Asymmetric rethinks the canonical layout of a yacht, rewrites the conventional balance of the board offering not only volumes so far destined for other functions, but above all creating new life scenarios, new points of view able to intensify and favor that visceral visual, physical and emotional bond that exists between man and the sea. Keeping only the forward passage on the starboard side and eliminating the left one, which is brought to the roof of the superstructure, SL96A allows through this asymmetrical configuration, already tested on SL102A, to recover about 10 square meters of surface in favor of the interiors. A proposal that allows us to offer, compared to a traditional layout of the yacht, more space, brightness, relaxation and better flexibility of use.
