Description

It is intended for those users who do not want to give up the "top" even when it comes to tenders, the boats usually used for service travel between sea and land. And Zar has cleverly inserted itself into this market segment by focusing on quality, comfort and above all design.

The ZF-1 is a small inflatable boat, just over 3 meters long, specifically designed to be the perfect tender: lots of space for the hold, lots of functionality but without ever forgetting comfort and... A pinch of fun, which doesn't hurt.

Yes, because the characteristics of the hull - similar to those of the largest models in the Zar range - make it stable and safe but also give it excellent seaworthiness, to ensure that navigation is fast and fun even during short journeys to land, often for tourist and/or leisure purposes.

On board, the steering console is served by a comfortable two-seater seat with backrests, and is equipped with mechanical steering and a height-adjustable sports rudder; As mentioned, the attention to comfort is anything but secondary and in fact the stern, with appropriate optional extensions, becomes a sundeck.

The same goes for the bow area, where the table leg is also among the options. After all, there is no shortage of extra accessories for the telescopic sun awning.

However, the shipyard has not forgotten the primary vocation of the tender and in fact the ZF-1 is equipped with four lockers for the hold (the one at the bow for the anchor), four retractable stainless steel cleats and five stainless steel handles for holding the passengers.
