Description

Refitt 2021

Farr Maxi One Design (formerly Grand Mistral 80, Ericsson 80) is a 24.5 metres (80 ft) one-design yacht designed by Bruce Farr. The type was originally developed as the Grand Mistral 80 for Pierre Fehlmann with the intention of creating a one-design round-the-world race. Five yachts were originally built. They sailed the Adecco World Championships in 1999, a total of eight yachts competing including.

Enjoy the pleasure of sailing on a sailboat built for racing around the world, also the style and quality on this exclusive Farr 80', designed for a sporty attitude with very comfortable handling at sea. In crew you can easily handle this beautiful "thoroughbred" of the sea. The boat is well maintained and has a long and fascinating sporting history. The current owner, demanding and enthusiastic, maintains the yacht aesthetically and technically to a high standard. The yacht is well equipped and includes a spacious deck, a comfortable dinette and comfortable accommodation for the crew. Let this special yacht surprise you with her sporty charm!

Accommodation for fourteen persons in adjustable canvas bunks plus head bed. Toilet room, very spacious and airy space in the dinette. Galley with fridge and gas stove.

Navigation equipment:

AIS, Plotter with GPS antenna.
