Description

Ranieri International Next 240 SH presents itself showing massive solidity on the waves due to the exclusive Suspension Active System hull and deck matching technology, which guarantees advantage and comfort when sailing.

The helm station offers a perfect driving position accompanied by a functional protective windscreen.

The synthetic teak coating is an excellent solution for owners who love elegance but do not want to give up the practicality of minimal maintenance work. As an alternative to the central structure, including the helm seats and grill/fridge cabinet, it is possible to opt for two single chairs which, rotating towards the stern, create a more complete dinette. There are also retractable side benches on the bulwark, while the aft sofa is equipped with an original system that converts it into a sundeck.

The interior cabin complete with toilet offers three berths, two in the bow and one amidships, which can be converted into a dinette in the event of a sudden change in the weather.
