Description

Ranieri International's new flagship, the Cayman 38 Executive, arrives, a large dinghy approved as a boat with the possibility of being able to choose a triple engine.

The bow consists of a sundeck that can accommodate up to five people and a dolphin boat that prevents you from having an anchor in sight.

The driver's seat with a two-seater bench seat provides the possibility to choose whether to use a backrest or drive seated. Behind it is a kitchen with a double stove and sink, under which there is a retractable seat. The retractable table is equipped with an electrical system that allows it to rise to the level of the U-shaped sofa to have a second sundeck at the stern, or to the maximum height to create a table on which up to ten people can eat comfortably. The retractable awning closes under the sofa. The bracket area has been covered to create a large aft platform.

The four-berth interior includes a comfortable double cabin with fridge, a second cabin under the driver's area and a finished and spacious bathroom.
