Description

Trawler DEFEVER 44 Offshore Cruiser from 1987 under Polish flag. Fixed price, VAT included.

The DEFEVER 44 Trawler is one of the most popular models, ideal for a couple cruising. It offers a spacious aft deck and a large area on the flybridge, with a sundeck capable of accommodating a Whaler or a 3.35-meter RIB. The spacious owner's cabin is located at the rear, while a guest cabin is situated at the front. This model typically holds 3,400 liters of fuel and 1,325 liters of water, providing a comfortable range of 1,500 miles or more. Its solid full-displacement FRP hull makes it a reliable long-distance cruiser.

The iconic DeFever 44 Offshore Cruiser is rare to find in Europe. This one is equipped with SP-135 engines, known for their robustness and reliability, and is stabilized for greater comfort at sea. The boat was previously based in Mallorca. This trawler can take you back there, but it can also take you from Tangier to Sweden, from Turkey to Monaco. Designed to carry you anywhere with confidence, it is the work of naval architect Arthur DeFever, based in San Diego and recognized as the father of trawler designs. A true boat for enthusiasts, this rare model in Europe is an opportunity not to be missed.
