Description

The Salpa 40 Gran Turismo is the longest boat in the Gran Turismo series and can be homologated as a boat at 9.99 metres.

The hardtop allows complete visibility in all weather conditions, and the electric awning, standard, which also shelters the cockpit, comes out of its rear. Here you will find the table that can be converted into a sundeck and the kitchen cabinet. Below deck there is a very bright dinette, the owner's cabin with a height of two meters in the bow and a guest cabin with separate beds.

The shipyard has used vacuum infusion technology not only for the hull but also for all the structural components, gaining 30% in lightness compared to the traditional technique and maintaining very high strength.
