Description

The 2009 Azimut 62 Evolution is a luxury motor yacht, belonging to the Azimut Yachts Flybridge range, known for its sophisticated design, build quality and high performance at sea. This model was an evolution of the famous Azimut 62, with improvements in terms of comfort, style and technological innovations.

External Layout

- Flybridge: One of the highlights of the Azimut 62 Evolution, large and spacious, designed for relaxation and fun. Equipped with a large solarium, dining area with table and chairs, and a wet bar. It also features a helm station with all the necessary controls for navigation.
- Bow: Solarium area with large and comfortable cushions, ideal for sunbathing while sailing or during stops.
- Aft: Large outdoor cockpit with seating and table, direct access to the bathing platform with telescopic ladder, useful for lovers of the sea and activities such as snorkeling and diving.
- Bathing platform: Makes it easy to access the water and stowage water equipment and toys.

The model has been designed to offer safe navigation even in rough sea conditions, with a hull designed to ensure stability and performance. The quality of the materials used and the attention to detail make this yacht a popular choice among owners looking for elegance and comfort.

The Azimut 62 Evolution is ideal for long cruises, with ample space for guests and
