Description

The Club Swan 50-011 'One Group' is a versatile performance yacht that balances the precision of competitive sailing with the comfort needed for cruising. Designed by Juan Kouyoumdjian and built in 2017, this yacht is optimized for high-performance racing while offering refined interiors crafted by Italian architect Michele Bönan, featuring luxurious teak and leather finishes by Poltrona Frau.

'One Group' has a race-ready configuration, including a carbon fibre hull, Southern Spars EC3 rigging, and an extensive sail inventory. She has been maintained by a professional team and comes equipped with a fully functional container for racing support.

The three-cabin layout offers flexibility, with a large owner's cabin, two double guest cabins, and convertible saloon spaces for racing. The spacious deck is equipped with six powerful racing winches and transverse jib tracks for optimal sail handling.
