The owners are real lovers of the sea. Both in summer and winter, they start engines, control systems. They follow Volvo Penta's maintenance recommendations to the letter, and never skip a recommendation from their trusted technical team! After enjoying some great cruises on board, they decided to let her future owner continue to take care of her.

Honestly ... If there were jobs to be done?

Perhaps, her new owner might want to renew the exterior upholstery, as they are of origin and show some marks of time
