pardo yachts 75 – new

Description

The new flagship of the Pardo Yachts fleet is positioned between the Walkaround and Endurance ranges. For sale at Orange Yachting: The new Pardo 75

The Pardo Yachts Walkaround range welcomes its new flagship, the Pardo 75 T-Top, designed for owners who want to expand after appreciating the Pardo 50 and who want more space in the sleeping area and outdoors, while maintaining the specific characteristics of the Walkaround range. This line is well-known for its performance and its practical and comfortable layout; it includes yachts that are easily manoeuvrable and designed to navigate in total safety thanks to their configuration. Having all of the above does not mean cutting back on functionality and great attention to design.

The characterising feature of the Pardo 75 profile is its uniquely styled T-top, made of carbon fibre, which protects the central lounge area. In the standard “galley up” version, it is equipped with an external kitchen on the right side and a dry bar aft of the wheelhouse.

On deck there are also two other lounge/solarium areas, one at the bow and another at the stern; the latter (positioned above the garage that can store a 2.80 metre tender and toys) has fold-down terraces along the side, which add 5 square metres to the available space. This is a significant improvement in the quality of life on board, always in close contact with the sea.

The deep stern platform makes the most of the dimensions of the yacht and – an absolute first for the Walkaround range – it is not “just” an actual terrace overlooking the sea, but it also acts as a transformer for launching and hauling
