Description

The Franchini 63 S, built in 2006 by the renowned Franchini Yachts shipyard, is a boat that combines performance and comfort without compromise. With a length of 20.15 meters and a width of 5.28 meters, this yacht is designed to ensure stability and speed even in the most demanding conditions. The Franchini shipyard, known for its long tradition in building luxury and high-performance yachts, has created a boat that represents the highest quality of Italian craftsmanship. The Franchini 63 S is designed for owners looking for a versatile boat, perfect for ocean cruising but also for sports outings. Its sandwich hull and deck of the same material offer a lightweight yet durable structure, optimizing seaworthiness and durability. The equipment, including a 200 hp Yanmar engine and a set of high-quality sails, make this model a perfect boat for those looking for performance at sea without sacrificing luxury. With its elegance and clean lines, the Franchini 63 S is a boat that knows how to catch the eye and offer a unique sailing experience.

The Interior

The interior of the Franchini 63 S is a true mix of elegance and functionality. Made with high quality materials, such as solid teak and marine composite, they offer a refined and welcoming environment. With four cabins (one of which is the owner's cabin) and two main bathrooms plus one for the crew, the boat is designed to accommodate up to eight people in total comfort. The owner's cabin is spacious and well-appointed, with ample storage space and stunning views from its porthole. The central seating area is ideal for relaxation,
