Description

Enjoy the simplicity with the aluminum hull – you don't have to worry about the paint and its damage. Whether the boat is left in the water or not, the hull retains its original appearance and ensures easy maintenance and its natural aluminum appearance

The hulls of our boats are self-bailing, which means that the water is drained from the hull overboard without a pump. Together with a reliable automatic bilge pump, this dynamic duo ensures efficient water drainage, contributing to a safe and worry-free experience on the water.

Trust in the robust construction of your boat with welded cleats and handrails. Even in strong storms, when secured with ropes, these elements maintain the integrity of the structure and ensure increased reliability.
