Description

The Larson 330 Convertible is a very popular American express cruiser appreciated in particular for its spacious interior and excellent value for money. Frances is extremely balanced, appreciated for his ability to maximize space and deliver solid performance. The merits of the model are related to habitability and interior layout, in which the management of space is expressed to the best of the possibilities of boats in this category. The cabin is surprisingly airy, with an interior height that allows for easy movement. It has a dinette that can be converted into a V-berth (forward bed), a spacious aft cabin (mid-cabin) and an additional sofa, offering different configurations for overnight stays. Frances has a full kitchen equipped with ample furniture, refrigerator, microwave, two-burner stove and coffee machine, ideal for medium-haul cruises. A convivial design is designed for socializing, with plenty of comfortable seating and backrests. Built-in Wet Bar: The presence of a sink, an icebox, and an outdoor wet bar makes outdoor entertainment easy. The design allows safe and easy access to the bow sundeck via the opening windshield. Equipped with 2017 Volvo Penta D3 twin engines, the boat can reach top speeds close to 35 knots, remarkable performance for a cruiser of this size. The hull is designed to maintain good seaworthiness, ensuring dry and safe sailing even in less than optimal conditions. The engine compartment is spacious and equipped with electric lifting, greatly simplifying routine maintenance operations. Equipped with a generator and air conditioning that increase its value for those who practice nautical camping. Navigation equipment:
