Description

Designed by naval architect Frank Muller, the VanDutch 55 offers an exceptional blend of speed and luxury.

This meticulously crafted yacht features a main deck with synthetic teak flooring, a glamorous white leather sofa/lounge area, and pop-up running lights that enhance both safety and aesthetics. The aft deck boasts a spacious sun pad, perfect for seating or sunbathing.

Beneath the aft sun pad, the engines, generator and ship systems can be accessed effortlessly with the touch of a button. A second machinery space, housing the ground tackle, is positioned forward on the bow/foredeck. The expansive bow offers a serene retreat for guests seeking privacy or tranquility. Additionally, a U-shaped windscreen effectively blocks noise from the aft conversation pit, creating a quiet and peaceful ambiance for extended boating sessions.
