From the German shipyard a 12-meter that combines sporty performance, ease of maneuvering and comfortable interiors.

Designed by the architectural couple Judel-Vrolijk, the Dehler 39 is a 12-meter sloop with a clear sporting vocation. This is demonstrated by the sleek hull lines optimized for the IMS rating, the "flush-deck", the 9/10 fractional rigging with three tiers of spreaders and the generous sail plan. On the other hand, cruise lovers will appreciate in this model those solutions that make life on board decidedly comfortable. A few examples: the layout of the maneuvers that facilitates navigation even with a small crew, the large cockpit and its capacious lockers, but above all the interiors, large, bright and with a height of over 1.90 meters both in the cabin and in the two bathrooms. (Upwind)

Navigation equipment:

Rudder angle indicator, Display, Plotter with GPS antenna.
