Description

Wally Tender, a fast Fast Commuter over 13 metres, has contributed to the birth of the myth "Wally". Its unique line, copied by many shipyards, remains unmatched as well as her seakeeping and truly unique charm. The Tender comes as support for large yacht boat listings, but for its size, more than 13 meters, it is clear that we are not faced with a dinghy, but an autonomous hull, made for rapid movement and "daily trip". It is designed by Patrick Banfield, a specialist in this kind of boats, and is immediately evident desire to step outside traditional Rails. Much attention is devoted not to lose sight of the boat's design philosophy: a tender must always do the tender, and then, for example, the freeboard is low enough for easy docking and its descent to the docks. Among the original features the wide and open Stern (ben 4.30 m) or the pilotage area walk-around type, equipped with cutting-edge equipment for navigation and the shape of the bow, that in the last meter rises from the water giving a character even stronger to the general lines of the boat.

This boat delivered in the summer of 2011 has been used very little and it really is like new.

Rudder angle indicator, On-Board Computer, Odometer (Raymarine), Depth Sounder (Raymarine), GPS (Raymarine), Chartplotter (Raymarine C80).
