Description

Sporty, aggressive and ready to give real thrills while sailing: the Robalo R265 is one of the most appreciated American fishermen for its build quality, performance and extraordinary versatility.

This 2008 version, particularly equipped for fishing, perfectly combines comfort and a sporty soul, making it ideal for both offshore outings and days of pure relaxation and fun at sea. The American hull guarantees stable, dry and safe navigation even in rough seas, while the engine offers brilliant performance and great reliability.

A boat designed for those who love to experience the sea in a dynamic, fast and authentic way, without sacrificing comfort and practicality on board.
