Description

PRICE ON REQUESTImpossible to look away from right from the very first glance: the design element which first affirms the character of the Sessantadue 62 is its vertical bow. A line which connects the sea and sky, and which accentuates the naval allure of the yacht. The waterline is lengthened, with the vessel benefiting in terms of audacity and muscularity, but without suffering in terms of harmony of forms, which is a distinctive element of Cranchi Yachts' new flybridge models. Information and photos are not binding.
