Description

Spartan but comfortable, it is a hull designed by Jean-Marie Finot and produced in the 70s by Aloa Marine.

Designed for short and medium-haul cruises, the Aloa 29 was born in France on a Finot project in the early seventies. An innovative product in terms of lines and furnishings.

A sloop designed for family pleasure and characterized by a wide, flat and very robust hull, able to offer particularly comfortable interior environments

At sea, the Aloa 29 proves to be agile and seaworthy. Very good course stability, particularly in downwind gaits. All manoeuvres are returned to the cockpit.
